

Marcin Wajda

DOI: 10.21858/msr.22.09

Vol no: 22

Return to issue

Return to editions list

Increasing investments with the aim to equalise development levels and to encourage regions and cities to create better conditions for their residents activities and to improve their quality of life should be the key response to the challenges that are currently faced by the European Union, also in the context of Brexit.

Marcin Wajda - 12th meeting of the Commission for Territorial Cohesion Policy and EU Budget \(COTER\)Pobierz