

Karolina Pietrzykowska, Jerzy Wojtatowicz

DOI: 10.21858/msr.35.03

Vol. no: 35

Return to issue

Return to editions list

The article attempts to show how activities at the level of planning and agricultural management affect the recreational values of the landscape, resulting from the behavior of curlew birds. This goal was achieved using the example of three species associated with agroecosystems: partridge, quail and pheasant. In particular, the availability of food and their habitat were taken into account. An analysis of changes and their causes in the context of both Poland and Mazovia was made.

Karolina Pietrzykowska, Jerzy Wojtatowicz, Zmiany w krajobrazie rolniczym Mazowsza i ich wpływ na wartości wypoczynkowe krajobrazu wynikające z obecności ptaków kurowatych \(Phasianidae\)Pobierz