

Anna Pawlikowska-Piechotka, Maciej Piechotka

DOI: 10.21858/msr.35.02

Vol. no: 35

Return to issue

Return to editions list

Presented in the first and second parts of the article, Warsaw's historic sports facilities – the oldest surviving of which are more than 200 years old – are an important factor of social bonding. Historic sports architecture, as well as other public edifices of historical value, are moreover a visual glue between the traditional fabric of the city and the present.

Anna Pawlikowska-Piechotka, Maciej Piechotka, Historyczne obiekty sportowe Warszawy jako walor turystyki współczesnej. Część druga: po zakończeniu II wojny światowejPobierz