Alina Potrykowska

DOI: 10.21858/msr.27.01

Vol no: 27

Return to issue

Return to editions list

The study presents the dynamics of internal migration in the context of population changes in the region; positive and negative internal migration balances in the voivodship, strongly diversified inflow of residents to Warsaw. The data on migrations show how these result in significant social and economic problems and differences in the size and structure of the population by gender and age.

Alina Potrykowska; Dynamika ludności i migracje wewnętrzne w województwie mazowieckimPobierz