

Mirosław Grochowski

DOI: lack

Vol no: 7

Return to issue

Return to editions list

Planning activities are purposeful: they should lead to the selection of appropriate development goals and appropriate ways to achieve them. The effectiveness of planning activities in the sense of creating rational (justified by conditions and needs) strategies, policies, plans and programs of action depends, among other things, on objective assessment of development phenomena and processes, as well as the ability to predict the occurrence of these phenomena and processes and their consequences.

Mirosław Grochowski, Regionalne obserwatoria terytorialne jako instrument monitorowania rozwoju regionów. Warsztaty w Białobrzegach, 20-21 maja 2011 rokuPobierz