

Małgorzata Kampka

DOI: 10.21858/msr.26.05

Vol no: 26

Return to issue

Return to editions list

The demographic changes of the 21st century, especially all aspects of ageing, require discussion about the needs of an ageing society which should lead to the development of urban and architectural solutions for older people, based on examples of senior cohousing. The ageing process should be taken into account because it affects older people on many levels and influences their functioning in a society.

Małgorzata Kampka; Cohousing senioralny w kontekście starzejącego się społeczeństwaPobierz