

Anna Ostrowska-Tryzno, Anna Pawlikowska-Piechotka

DOI: 10.21858/msr.33.04

Vol. no: 33

Return to issue

Return to editions list

Although cultural tourism has been known since the very beginning of the European civilisation (the Ancient Greeks and Romans peregrines'), nowadays cultural events are a great attraction not only for a local community, but they are also a strong motivation for tourists to travel. It seems that one of the special research value is to consider how deeply cultural events, connected with 'high art' (museums, classical music, art events of superior quality), motivate a local community and tourists.

Anna Ostrowska-Tryzno, Anna Pawlikowska-Piechotka, Dziedzictwo Fryderyka Chopina z perspektywy społeczności lokalnej i turystówPobierz