

Lydia Coudroy de Lille, Caroline Bouloc

DOI: 10.21858/msr.33.05

Vol. no: 33

Return to issue

Return to editions list

Urban renewal issues in France are very often discussed with reference to the demolition or renovation of large-scale housing estates. But these issues also concern former industrial areas which have their own distinct architectural, social, and economic difficulties. This article aims to present analysis of these differences using the example of two case studies in the Lyon metropolitan area, the second largest agglomeration in France.

Lydia Coudroy de Lille, Caroline Bouloc, Miejska rewitalizacja dzielnic przemysłowych: przykład metropolii lionńskiej
Pobierz