Mazovia Regional Studies 2017/22 | 1

From the Editor-in-Chief

Part. I Analyses and Studies

Maciej Wasilewski, Barbara Szulczewska – Protection objectives in Polish urban nature reserves as a challenge for their management

page 15

Szymon Opania - New spatial conditions of regional development

page 29

Magdalena Opania - Landscape values as a basis for subregional development

page 47

Paulina Legutko-Kobus – Social capital as a determinant of imaplementation of sustainable development

page 61

Błażej Ciarkowski – Unwanted heritage and its cultural potential. Values of modernist architecture from the times of the Polish People's Republic

page 71

Agata Wereszczyńska - Tradition and modernity in Władysław Sowicki's pre-war

Mazovia Regional Studies 2017/22 | 2

architecture of exposition pavilions

page 85

Mateusz Świerzewski, Paweł Gładysz – Environmental and economic assessment of a biomass-based cogeneration plant: Polish case study

page 97

Part II. Self government

Wojciech Białożyt – Digital Era Governance – a new chapter of public management theory and practice

page 117

Part III. Miscellaneous

Marcin Wajda – 12th meeting of the Commission for Territorial Cohesion Policy and EU Budget (COTER)

page 133